

Before the No Call law went into effect, we rarely had a quiet evening without multiple telemarket calls. We both work and value our free time without being bothered by the ever-ringing phone. Please don't change this law and deprive us of our peace and quiet.